THE SCRIPTURE CLUB OF VALLEY REST; OR, EVERY-BODY'S NEIGHBORS. By the author of "The Barton Experiment," "Helea's Babics," &c. New York: G. P. Patham's Sons.

under the head of American humorists, although it is owing largely to their humor that his books have gained so wide a popularity. He depicts human nature as he finds it, as everybody finds it. Every one knows the counterparts of "Helen's Babies," but it is not every one who can reproduce them with pen and ink as he sees them. We do not throw back our heads and hold our side with laughter over Mr. Habberton's sketches. We only smile, and perhaps chuckle a little as we say, "How like! We know just such people," We enjoy reading about characters we have met. Who would care for Colonel Sellers if he was not a familiar character? It is because we have known just such men that we enjoy Mr. Raymond's clever creation. Any one who has had any dealings with country churches will readily appreciate the humor of "The Scripture Club of Valley Rest." He will at once recognize brother Humbletop, Captain Maile, Mr. Alleman, Squire Woodhouse, and the rost of the good poople who formed the club. Mr. Haboerton, without buriesquing them, has shown how certon, without buriesquing them, has shown how really amusing such clubs are, with their disagreements, jealousies, orthodoxy and heresics. Brother Humbletop washed his hands of the club before it was organized; he sniffed doubt in the air, and his views could not tolerate too many questions. Brother Hum-bictop wanted the Epistle of Paul to the Romans to be the first lesson of the club, but the majority wanted the Sermon on the Mount. The majority rules in Scripture clubs as well as in more worldly places, and Brother Humoletop, being defeated, slowly rose to his feet, cleared his throat, adjusted his newly-polished

Scripture clubs as well as in more worldly places, and Brother Humbletop, beinz defeated, slowly rose to his feet, cleared his throat, adjusted his newly-polished plasses, and raised his voice:

"My dear friends," said he, "having been an humble but earnest follower of the Lord Jesus Christ for nearly half a century, I need not on this occasion enter into a defence of myself against any possible insulation of lack of faith. Nor will any one doubt that I apprehend the great value of the Sermon on the Monn. Some of you will, perhaps, recall a series of sermons which I preached a few years ago upon the Beatitudes. But Jesus Christ was not merely a moral teacher; His great work was to redeem the works from death by offering limeelf as a propitation for their sins, and submitting Himself anto death, even the shameful death of the cross. His tenchings were great; He spake as man never spake before; but all this is as naught compared with the great work which He finished upon taivary. It is this that we need to study; it is for this we should love and adore Him. Good so loved the world that He gavo His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal He."

"I should like to ask Brother Humbletop if personal salvation is the highest morive with which we should study the Bible?" and Mr. Alleman.

It was evident that the question was a poser to the good doctor; the very convexity and lustre of his glasses served only to make his eyes stare more aimlessly at nothing for a moment or two. He recovered himself, however, and replied:

"God in His conerosity, and doubtless in view of the needs of sinful humanity, has ordered that the salvation of mankind should have seen the principal object of Christ's coming upon earth; I am not here to critise my Maker."

"And you know that no one clos is," remarked Mr. Alleman with not inexcusable acerbity.

"When the perfect of the class seems to Indicate an estimate of Christ to which I should never dare to commit unyself—an estimate against which I

colaimed:—
"Scripture club, ch? Well, it's a good name."
"That's so," said Mr. Alleman; "let's adopt it, and row the blessed old man that names can't change

Now the bessel out man that makes can clearly matures. "New this tanding Brother Humbletop's misgivings the club flourished for a time as a green bay tree. All denominations took part in its discussions. Not only were the lessons discussed at the regular Sunday meetings, but even on week days the members found the Sermon on the Monat of more lively interest than the day's news, and newspapers gave way to the Scriptures. Iffit at last a latal day came, free speech got the best of the members, and the club lought a decisive battle which ended in its dissolution, although a few devoted members hing together and studied the Word of God with less excitement and more to their own satisfaction.

THE BOARD FOR THE EXAMINATION OF MEDI-

WASHINGTON, June 10, 1877. The Board of Medical Officers of the Navy, consist-ing of Medical Director Joseph Wilson, Medical In-spector George Peck, Medical Inspector T. W. Leach, Surveyor J. C. Spear and Surveyor Thomas Hiland, which has been in session in this city for some mouths past to examine medical officers for promotion and applicants for admission to the medical corps of the navy, will adjourn about the 1st of July until the 1st of October next. There are now but four vacancies in the grade of assistant surgion in the navy, though there will probably be several more by October, caused by the promotions of assistant surgions, who are entitled to an examination after three years' service. The Board rigidity scrutnizes the physical qualifications of each candidate, as well as his mental and professional capacity; requires competent testimony as to his moral fitness, and reports lavorably upon no case admitting of a reasonable doubt, as the health and lives of the officers and mon of the navy are objects too important to be trusted to ignorant or imcompetent persons. JAPANESE CADETS.

Among the members of this class are Koroko Katz and J. G. Kantomo, two Japanese youths who have been educated at the Academy under a late law of Congress allowing certain Jananese youths to be placed at the Naval Academy at the expense of the Japanese government. The members of this class will be sent to sea on various men-oi-war to serve their two years, and the other classes will go abourd the Constellation for their annual summer cruise along the coast.

The cadet engineers will make their practice cruise on the steamer May Flower, which vessel is now at the Naval Academy with the Constellation, to take the classes on board on the 21st inst.

There will be a grand ball at the Academy on the evening of the 20th, which will be attended by the Board of Visitors and many prominent naval officers.

- THE NAVY REGISTER.

WASHINGTON, June 10, 1877. Register, to be issued on the 1st of July, has been commenced, and will be ready for the printer by that date. The department was unable to publish the July Register last year on account of having no money available for that purpose.

A GREAT GUN. SUCCESSFUL CASTING OF THE TWELVE-INCH RIFLED CANNON AT SOUTH BOSTON-THE PLOCESS OF TESTING.

The large 12-inch rifled gun intended for one of the fortifications in New York Harbor was successfully cast at the South Boston Foundry on the 30th of May, next week it will be taken from the pit where it has been cooling to be placed in the lathe. The wrought from two for this gun is now on its way from England, and it is expected that it will be liumbed early in August. The gun will then be sent to the proving ground at Sandy Hook, New York Harbor, to be tested. Five hundred rounds will be fired from it to test its merils.

MALTREATING A PRISONER.

FRANCIS WILLIAMS SAID TO HAVE BEEN BRUTALLY TREATED BY OFFICER DOYLE. Francis Williams was taken from Essex Market Prison to Bellevue Hospital last night about ten o'clock, suffering from perstonitis, consequent on rupture of intestines. The injury, according to the invalid's statement, was sustained at one o'clock on Sunday morning, when he was arrested by Office Doyle, of the Seventh precinct, at his own door, No. 36 Pike street. The officer beat him, he said in the hospital, but exactly how he was scarcely able to detail, as he was in articulo morfie, it was thought.

The instory of the matter is briefly as follows:—The police say that at one o'clock he and his wife were quarrelling in their naliway, and the officer on whose heat they hived came up and tried to stop the disturbance. As is usual in instances where a third party interferes in a conjugal fracas the officer incurred their displeasure. Withans and spouse set upon Doyle, if the latter is to be believed, and if used him. Doyle says that he used his cind in self-defence, struck Williams on the head and rapped for assistance. Officer Braisted came along and helped Doyle to take both priseners to the Seventh precinct station house. A charge of disorderly conduct was preferred against the bonsterous pair and they were sent down stairs. At six o'clock yesterday morning Braisted says he came in off post and found doorman Hiram in the act of dressing Williams head. He says also that he beard Williams remained in the cell until it was time to go to court. He and his wife met at Essex Market before the Judge (Kiloreth), and were fined $5 apiece, which they were unable to pay, and were thereupon sent for to attend to him. On examining the patient the medical officer round that the man was suffering from peritonitis consequent on rupturely of intestines and ordered nim to be sent to Believee at once. The unfortunate man was believed to be dying and his request to see a dergyman was granted. He is fifty one years oid. He is a rigger by occupation. The neighbors give him a good character, although the police say he has not. intestines. The injury, according to the invalid's statement, was sustained at one o'clock on Sunday

OBITUARY.

JOHN O'KEEFFE, M. P. A cable despatch from Loudou announces the death of Mr. John O'Keeffe, Member of Parliament for Dungarvan, Ireland. Mr. O'Keeffe was comparatively new to Parliamentary life, and was little known as a politician until the last general election, when he was returned as a home ruler. At that time a sort of "tidal wave" on a small scale swept over Ireland, and many men who were previously little known as na-tionalists were elected on the strength of a pleage to support a demand for "home rule." which the constituencies supposed meant some-thing like the "Repeal of the Union" demanded by O'Connell, but which would really bind Ireland more closely to the British crown. Mr. O'Keefle has never made any prominent figure on the floor of the House of Commons, nor was he much known in the legal profession, of which he was a member.

THE JERSEY TRAGEDY.

Frederick Bauer, who was shot by Constable Koeble at Jersey City on Saturday night during a fracas, an account of which appeared in yesterday's Herald, died of his wounds last night at nine o'clock. Koeble has been arrested and confined in the First procunct station house in Jersey City.
